My Life's Work - what I'm here to do - Gene Key 18

If you have the 18th Gift in this position, your Life's Work revolves entirely around Integrity. You need a cause to stand for in life. You need to challenge some aspect of the way things are done in the world, and you need to build your Life's Work around it. No matter what you do in life, to really be joyous and fulfilled, you need to know that somehow you are improving some corner of the world. It is also imperative that you come to terms with the relationships you had with your parents as a child. If you still hold any resentment or anger, you need to find a way to let this go. Until you are clear of emotional baggage from this period of your life, your true frequency can never fully emerge.

My Evolution - what I'm here to learn - Gene Key 17

Only when you stand for the highest integrity will you find a healthy outlet for this incredible mind of yours. If you do not serve some higher purpose, your mind will gradually atrophy and slowly drive you and others mad. Your mind needs projects that it can really get its teeth into. You are exceptionally bright and can grasp things that others cannot easily see. Therefore you must trust what your mind sees; otherwise you will find yourself lapsing into the world of opinion and comparison which is the very world your mind is here to change. You of all people need a mission in life that you can throw all your energy and gifts into fulfilling. You need responsibility, recognition, and the freedom to take charge, particularly regarding organisation. You have a gift for seeing the long-term results and goals, and should never compromise any aspect of your integrity for the sake of a short-term benefit. The bottom line for you is: give your mind something creative and constructive to do all the time, otherwise it will undermine you.

My Radiance - what keeps me healthy - Gene Key 39

Your health depends on your having the courage to always follow your convictions. You have never been a follower of others, but have always sought to carve your own unique path through life. For you to radiate your natural joy and health, you need to be occupied with situations and people that constantly make you feel more alive. If you have nothing worthwhile to do, your spirit will feel sapped and your dynamism will falter. You need to engage with people who enjoy your natural spark, rather than people who take you or life too seriously or too personally. Above all, you need to feel a sense of freedom around you at all levels of your being.

My Purpose - what deeply fulfils me - Gene Key 38

With the 38th Gift as your purpose, your life may read like a heroic novel. You will face storms, fight battles against the odds, be knocked down at times, but you will keep rising up and up until you stand in a place altogether beyond adversity. This field is the Field of Honour and it is the real purpose of your life — to serve a purpose beyond yourself. When you are living in the Field of Honour, it makes absolutely no difference what life throws at you. It all serves to push you closer and closer to your highest ideals. You may at times become lost in the details of your life, but you should never forget this underlying truth. Honour lives within every cell of your being, and the more you align with it, the more powerful and surrendered you will become. It is your truest nature, manifesting in every true action and decision you make. It is your defence against injustice and it is your constant inspiration. As you serve Honour, so it will serve you.
